FOR ONE NIGHT ONLY - SUNDAY SEPTEMBER 4th 2016 The Adelphi Theatre, London - at 6.30 pm

Bumblescratch is a new musical comedy written by Robert J. Sherman. It's set in London during the Great Plague of 1665 and the Great Fire of 1666 and told from the perspective of a demented, lascivious plague rat, Melbourne Bumblescratch (Darren Day), who demonstrates his unique and twisted love affair with the City through marvellously gruesome tales!

This major West End concert presentation, with a stellar line-up including West End, TV and Film stars Darren Day, Jessica Martin (Bethesda), Michael Xavier (Hookbeard) and Ilan Galkoff (Perry) is being specially staged as part of the commemoration of the 350th anniversary of the Great Fire of London - and will be raising funds for Variety, the Children's Charity, which provides outstanding support for children in every part of the UK who are sick, disabled or disadvantaged.

Bumblescratch has music, lyrics and book by Robert J. Sherman, continuing the enduring legacy of his father and uncle, The Sherman Brothers, the songwriting duo behind childhood classics including Mary Poppins and The Jungle Book.

Recognising the crucial role that London's livery companies play in the City and their members' passion both for the City's traditions and history and for benevolence and charitable endeavours, the Bumblescratch company is delighted to offer members of all London's livery companies and their guests an exclusive 20% discount on ticket prices for this very special evening: fun for friends and all the family, and supporting a terrific children's charity.
